Weekend Highway Toll Well Below Estimate of 410

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic 364
Drownings 179
Miscellaneous 93
Total 636

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cautious driving by millions of home-bound motorists held the nation's July 4th weekend holiday traffic toll well below the pre-holiday estimate of 410.

Although late reports were expected to boost the total of dead somewhat, it appeared that the final count would be below the record toll forecast by the National Safety Council for a three-day holiday period.

Fatal highway mishaps got off to a fast start but tapered off commencing Saturday afternoon after early reports indicated the holiday would end with a new record of traffic deaths.

The Safety Council attributed the lower death toll to energetic traffic enforcement and the shock of the skyrocketing death toll during the early hours of the holiday.

However, it appears the final count will be close to the number killed during the recent Memorial Day holiday period. The 371 traffic deaths for the three-day Memorial Day period set a new record for the holiday.

Thus, the traffic death toll for the first two long weekend holidays this year was more than 725. During the first five months this year traffic deaths averaged 88 per day.

The National Safety Council had estimated the 410 traffic death toll for the 78-hour period starting at 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday and ending last midnight. The record high traffic toll for a three-day holiday period was 407 set in 1955 while the record low since World War II was 225 deaths in 1947.

The holiday was marred by several multiple traffic accidents. One of the biggest was near Junction City, Kan., Saturday in which six persons were killed in the collision of two cars.

Drownings took a heavy toll, surpassing by far the 132 reported during the Memorial Day period. Deaths from miscellaneous type accidents also were higher than the 88 during the Memorial Day holiday.

A fireworks plant blew up in Portland, Ore., killing one child and injuring at least 20 persons. However, no deaths in fireworks displays were reported.

An Associated Press survey during the nonholiday period covering 78 hours from June 19 to June 22, showed 339 traffic deaths, 118 drownings and 63 deaths in miscellaneous type accidents. The over-all total of 520 was more than 100 under the combined total during the July 4 weekend.

Ohio was lucky in one respect but unlucky in another over the 78-hour July 4th weekend.

Lucky because the State Department of Highway Safety had predicted 24 traffic fatalities between 6 p.m. Thursday and midnight Sunday, but only 18 were recorded.

Coincidentally, that's the same number of highway deaths reported for a similar 78-hour period over the Memorial Day weekend.

But unlucky because in comparison with the Memorial Day holiday, when 27 persons died in all accidents, there were 38 fatalities of all types over the Fourth of July weekend.

Warm weather, with the temperature soaring into the 90s, could be partly blamed for the increase in fatalities. Many sought relief from the heat through water sports, and 14 drownings resulted.

Then, too, showers and thunderstorms were accountable for their share of the blame in the number of traffic deaths, for rain-swept highways made driving treacherous.

Although the number of highway deaths fell six short of the prediction by the Department of Highway Safety, the department's director, Gordon Jeffery, was not entirely pleased.

"We are always disappointed when that many get killed," he said. "The figure is entirely too high."

"Unless people accept those restraints that are necessary to prevent accidents, they have no right to accept the privilege of driving an automobile in modern traffic."

"Our experience has shown a very high percentage of all accidents are caused by people breaking the law. Unless they are determined to show courtesy, respect the rights of others and drive defensively, they have no right to accept the privilege. Driving is not a right in this state."

Incidentally, to date this year, Ohio has had a 12 per cent reduction in traffic deaths compared with the same period in 1957.

By early today, the State Highway Patrol, which keeps a log of all accidental fatalities, had no new ones to report for the weekend.

But there was the possibility, of course, that accidents occurring late Sunday night, and not reported immediately to patrol headquarters in Columbus, could up the death toll.

This would particularly apply to accidents stemming from travel by motorists homeward-bound after their holiday vacations.

There was only one multiple fatality accident over the long weekend and it occurred soon after the tabulation of deaths began.

Goldfine Employees' Hotel Rooms 'Bugged' and Burglarized

Auto Crash Kills Lockbourne Airman

Charles A. Hayward, 52, Lockbourne airman, was killed in an auto crash at 2 a.m. yesterday on the Circleville-Lockbourne Road about 11 miles north of here.

Hayward, who made his home in Roseville, Mich., was dead on arrival at Berger Hospital. The coroner's report said the airman died of head and neck injuries.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Dwight Radcliff and John Wolford, the airman was a passenger in a car driven by Albert Louis Francis, 24, also a Lockbourne airman.

Francis was treated at Berger Hospital for abrasions and contusions of the face.

Francis told deputies that he was driving south and that his car went out of control when he attempted to pass another auto.

Deputies said the car apparently passed the vehicle in front, then veered from one side of the road to the other before crashing into a ditch.

Radcliff and Wolford said tire marks indicated that the careening auto skidded 150 feet on the pavement and another 255 feet down the ditch before coming to a halt. The vehicle was heavily damaged, lawmen said.

The impact knocked down 90 feet of wire fence, three wooden posts and two cement posts.

Francis pleaded guilty today in Circleville Municipal Court to an accusation of driving under the influence of intoxicants but entered a plea of innocent to a charge of manslaughter.

He was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months on the OMVI count. He was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $1,500 bond on the manslaughter accusation.

Billings, Montana

Kofu, Japan

TOO MUCH, TOO LITTLE—Damage caused by wind, hail and rain during a storm in Billings, Mont., was estimated at millions of dollars. In Kofu, Japan, more than 1,000 farmers fought a bloody battle with police as rival villagers attempted to dig a well in the town's river bed to draw water to their parched rice paddies. Tear gas dispersed them.

Armed Robbery Committed At Gold Cliff Gas Station

An armed robbery committed at 3 a. m. today at the Gold Cliff Service Station netted two bandits nearly $905 it was reported by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The service station is located four miles south of Circleville on U. S. Route 23. Henry Caudill, manager, related he was inside the station when a man drove up in a car and walked in asking to use the phone.

After moving to the phone, Caudill said the man pulled a revolver and ordered him to empty the cash from the register into a paper sack. Caudill said he also was told to put his billfold money into the sack.

The man then left and drove north. Caudill said there was another man in the car. According to Caudill, the hold-up man was approximately 30 to 35 years old; stood 5' 8", weighed about 165 lbs., had brown hair, and was wearing light colored trousers and a blue shirt. The car was a 1953 or 54 model.

Money taken included $204.67 from the cash register, in denominations of $30 in silver coins, ones, fives, tens and one twenty. There was approximately $400 in Caudill's billfold. Deputy Robert Hoover was the investigating officer.

Lotto said he himself has filed a complaint with the U.S. district attorney and asked the attorney whether his privacy has been violated by the microphone.

Lotto was registered for the room at which the microphone had been placed.

Miss Paperman was living in room 842 at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel.

She said her room appeared to have been ransacked, and that she found an empty packet of cigarettes in the room. She doesn't smoke.

Lotto said she returned to her room about 10:30 p.m. Sunday night and went to bed.

At that time, she said, she closed a bolt in a door connecting with an adjoining room but thought nothing of it at the time.

The adjoining room No. 844 had been occupied by a member of the Goldfine staff who was not there Sunday.

Miss Paperman said she discovered the loss of the papers this morning when she went to a closet.

Lotto said sealed letters marked "personal" had been broken open. Lotto called reporters to a suite

Remembrances started arriving Saturday for the lonely, aging beauty who was selected early in the century by the artist Charles Dana Gibson to portray his famous creation in the Follies.

And Sunday well-wishers came calling, bringing gifts of jelly, jam, perfume, candy, handkerchiefs and flowers.

More than 150 cards, letters and telegrams arrived from the United States, Canada and Mexico—and every one of them sent by a stranger to the woman who was winned, dined and fêted as the toast of the Ziegfeld Follies from 1907 to 1910.

Since Mrs. Buchan's husband, a surgeon, died in January she has been alone.

Classroom Teachers At Bowling Green

BOWLING GREEN (AP)—There's a lot of talk here about school classrooms, which is not surprising, because the Department of Classroom Teachers opened its 15th annual conference today.

It's being held at Bowling Green State University.

Committee Prober Found with Mike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine's aides charged today that the hotel room of his secretary has been burglarized. This came atop discovery of a microphone placed in position to eavesdrop on conversation of the aides.

Jack Lotto, a public relations man newly hired by Goldfine, said that bank records, correspondence, lists and documents had been taken from the room and the secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, occupied. He said a report had been made to police.

Lotto said "We feel this burglary is a continuation of the Gestapo tactics being employed against Mr. Goldfine and his associates."

Lotto said the missing papers were to have been used by Goldfine in his appearance Tuesday before the House committee investigating relations between the Boston industrialist and White House aide Sherman Adams.

Lotto said Goldfine and his assistants don't know how much is missing and consequently can't say whether it will interfere with Goldfine's testimony.

The discovery of the microphone had already plunged the Adams-Goldfine investigation into a roaring controversy.

At the other end of the microphone wires was Baron I. Shacklette, chief investigator for the House subcommittee looking into relations between Goldfine and Sherman Adams. And with Shacklette was Jack Anderson, a legman for columnist Drew Pearson.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) announced after a meeting of the subcommittee today that it will "get to the bottom" of bugging and burglary incidents in the Goldfine investigation. The committee reached no decision on whether to fire Shacklette.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) called the committee into emergency session to weigh the fate of Shacklette. He said the bugging had not been authorized.

From the Goldfine camp, attorney Roger Robb fired a demand for under-oath examination of anyone who might know whether confidential data has been secured through such tactics.

Lotto said Robb had also complained to the FBI about the microphone and that the FBI was investigating.

Lotto said he himself has filed a complaint with the U.S. district attorney and asked the attorney whether his privacy has been violated by the microphone.

Lotto was registered for the room at which the microphone had been placed.

Robb then whispered that about 11 p.m. he had spotted a microphone just on the other side of a locked door connecting Room 800 with adjoining Room 806.

Robb said that he had noticed earlier that the door to Room 806

It gave no further details.

The U.S.S.R. announced June 28 that the C118 had been caught by Soviet fighters inside the Soviet Armenian border and forced to land.

Ike, Diefenbaker Talk Tuesday on 'Togetherness'

OTTAWA (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker in their talks opening here Tuesday may take historic steps to establish a direct channel between the law-making bodies of Canada and the United States.

Diefenbaker Sunday night expressed hope the talks will lead to the creation of a joint Canada-U.S. parliamentary committee.

The purpose of such a group would be to keep a constant watch on problems emerging between the neighbors and presumably to initiate fast action if friction reaches the danger point.

Mexicans Pick New President

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Handsome, 48-year-old Adolfo Lopez Mateos, the brilliant labor minister in the last government, was elected president of Mexico Sunday in probably the quietest vote in the nation's history.

The dominant government party of Revolutionary Institution (PRI) claimed Lopez Mateos had won by a landslide—somewhere between 70 and 85 per cent of the votes. No big totals were announced, however.

Lopez Mateos' victory over textile manufacturer Luis Hector Alvarez had never been in doubt. The PRI and its predecessors have never lost an election since the parent party was launched in 1928.

Mexico also elected a full new Congress of 60 senators and 162 deputies. The PRI claimed that it had retained control by an overwhelming majority.

Long-Distance Shot Kills Queens Girl

NEW YORK (AP) — Police theorized today that the rifle bullet which fatally wounded a 9-year-old Queens girl was not aimed at her. About 30 rifles collected in the neighborhood were examined by police Sunday, but ballistics tests proved none was the death weapon.

The girl, Grace Denezzo, died Saturday night. This was about 24 hours after she was shot in the head as she sat with her family in the driveway of their home in Queens.

An autopsy indicated the bullet traveled a long way before striking the child.

New Holland Youth Drowns While Swimming in Creek

William Edward Law, 16, Route 1, New Holland, drowned Friday evening while swimming at Frieze's Ford, about four miles south of New Holland in Ross County.

The youth's body was found Saturday morning by Vernon Tarbill and Sheldon and Glen Grimes. He was the son of Walter and Bessie Britton Law.

According to relatives, young Law traveled to Paint Creek on his bicycle Friday evening for a swim. He apparently made the trip by himself.

When he didn't arrive home that evening, members of the family thought that he probably had decided to stay overnight at a friend's house.

HOWEVER, when he didn't show up the next morning, a search party was organized. The body was found a short time later.

The youth was a sophomore at New Holland High School and was a member of the local Apostolic Church of Christ. His family formerly lived in Circleville.

Other survivors are: two brothers, Bobbie 17, and Gary, 5; three sisters, Carolyn, 14, Janice, 12, and Karen Sue, 3; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Britton, Wilbur, W. Va.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, New Holland, with the Rev. Paul Cook officiating. Burial was in New Holland Cemetery.

Common Pleas Session Hears Four Cases

Four persons were sentenced in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court last week by Judge William Ammer and visiting Judge James Parker, Waverly.

Willard S. Reed, 224 Mingo St., was placed on one year's probation for being an habitual traffic violator.

Clarence Dyke, Waverly, was sentenced to six months in the County Jail. He violated his probation by driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants and failing to provide for his minor children. He also had failed to pay his court costs from a previous trial.

Ernest E. Happeny, 339 E. Union St., was sentenced to the Ohio State Reformatory, Mansfield, for violation of his probation period. He received two sentences of one to three years, both to run concurrently.

HAPPENY was placed on probation several years ago for issuing checks with insufficient funds. He broke his probation the first time for being arrested for intoxication. He was given a second chance by Judge Parker.

A week later he broke probation by being accused of forgery. Happeny skipped the state and was arrested in Springfield several weeks ago after more than a year's absence.

John Daly, Patterson, N. J., was placed on three years probation by Judge Parker. Daly pleaded guilty to charges of shooting with intent to kill and breaking and entering.

Daly's crime was committed more than a year ago near Gold Cliff. He was sent to the Lima State Hospital for observation and remained there. He recently was adjudged sane and returned to the County for sentencing.

Ammer relieved himself from the bench on the last two cases because he was the County Prosecutor at the time the crimes occurred.

1st Graders Reach New Record High

The Circleville School system will have the largest first grade enrollment in its history in the coming school year, it was announced today by Superintendent George Hartman.

A total of 307 first graders will start school in the fall and will be taught in 10 classes, which is two more than the previous year.

Hartman said the reasons for the increasing pupil enrollment are due to the growing population of the community and the addition of Wayne Twp. and a portion of Washington Twp. The additional grades will appear at Wayne Twp. and Franklin St. grade schools.

Dead Village Natives Meet In Cemetery for Gay Time

WHAT WAS ONCE GARNETT'S VILLE, Ky. (AP)—"I guess it is a little unique to have a reunion in a cemetery," H. D. Higbee said.

"But it's about the only time we ever get to see each other," Higbee, a 51-year-old iron shop worker at Louisville, and about 150 other folks who once lived in the small village of Garnett'sville got together Sunday at the burial grounds for their annual reunion.

The government bought their land in 1940 and made it part of the Ft. Knox military reservation. The 10-acre cemetery is the only land they retained.

What do people talk about in a cemetery?

Old friends, old times, those who have passed on and the future generation, says Higbee.

Like some of the others present, he said he thought back to his boyhood days.

He also shared the surprise of meeting a family which hadn't been heard from since Garnett'sville disappeared.

Just recently the family read about the reunion in a newspaper and decided to attend.

Some of the reunion is taken up by business. There's the matter of a fund to keep the cemetery in shape.

Everyone contributes as the need arises.

There's also the matter of reading the list of people who purchase new lots every year — the people who want to be buried in their family lots.

"Some of the older ones are dying off each year," Higbee says.

But he's quick to add the old-timers hope their children will want to carry on the custom of getting together to talk about what used to be.

Heir Back Home; Mother Proud

LONDON (AP) — Craig Dahlberg, 19-year-old heir to an American fortune, was back with his mother today after being missing a week.

Instead of admonishing the youth for running away, Mrs. Gilda Dahlberg expressed pride after hearing his story.

"He has proved he's a man," said the widow of an American millionaire who's here to arrange production of stage plays.

Craig was found in a cheap hotel in London. He said he ran away rather than tell his mother he failed his examinations at a Miami, Fla., college. He had come over to join her for the summer.

Craig said he took a six-day tour of England.

Canaveral Gets New Missile Launcher

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An advanced control system designed to handle more launches at a smoother pace has been installed at the Air Force missile test center.

It was reported that the new system will be capable of directing the lengthy countdowns for three missiles simultaneously. Up to now it was feasible to control only one launching at a time.

Marion Preacher Missing; Police Launch Search

MARION (AP) — A young Marion clergyman vanished under mysterious circumstances early today. Police feared he was the victim of foul play.

Missing was the Rev. William K. Dever, 30, pastor of the First Church of God and a native of Akron.

His wife told police he had $200 in church funds in his possession. He tried to deliver it to the church treasurer, but the treasurer was not at home when the pastor called.

Mrs. Dever said her husband left the house at 8:45 p.m. Sunday night, then telephoned her at 9:15 to report he was assisting a motorist whose car had broken down on a Marion street. He told her he was taking the motorist to a shopping center to buy a part for the car.

That was the last she heard from him.

At 3:18 a.m., police found the Rev. Mr. Dever's car abandoned on a Marion street. It had been ransacked.

The Devers came to Marion from Hammond, La., March 1. They have three small daughters.

Buy-on-Time Still in Style, Stores Report

Customers Shy of Big-Ticket Goods
With Long Payout

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Buying on time is still in style. Because of the trimming down of auto installment debt there's more of a chemise look today. But if you disregard auto credit (and it's still hefty by most standards) you'll find Americans increasing their purchases of other consumer goods on the cuff.

Department stores report a steady climb in the amount of soft goods being sold on short term credit plans.

It's only the big ticket hard goods that take a long time to pay for that find the customers acting shy.

And the American Bankers Assn. reports that debtors are prompter in their payments than they were in the early months of 1958. The Northern Trust Co. of Chicago says that delinquencies and repossessions, although higher than a year ago, have not reached a stage considered serious. The ABA adds they appear to be receding in many parts of the country. But the American Collectors Assn. finds the delinquent, its particular problem, hard to collect from.

The Federal Reserve Board's largest figures show that at the start of June total installment credit was just under 33 billion dollars, down 600 million dollars from the end of January. During May consumers had taken on 3 1/2 billion dollars of new installment debt, but repayments had topped this by 100 million dollars.

The shrinkage was all in auto loans. Outstanding were some 14 1/2 billion dollars of commitments on cars, 183 million dollars less than at the start of May.

But other consumer goods had risen in May by 53 million dollars to 8 1/8 billion dollars to top year ago figures by 95 million dollars. Repair and modernization loans and personal loans also rose.

A Standard Financial Corp. survey of 12,640 customers of 127 department stores throughout the country points up the selectivity of consumers during the recession. It reports that in the last 18 months revolving credit sales of soft goods in these stores exceeded the corresponding month of the previous year.

The average maturity of installment credit for soft goods is seven months, while the average maturity on auto debt is around 31 months.

Merchants and customers answering the survey stressed this time difference in their credit programs under current conditions.

"Consumers can see seven months ahead," the report concludes. "So they hold back on the long-term obligations."

Only in the case of electric appliances did any of the 127 stores report any easing of credit terms. The aim in that case was traced to efforts of factories to reduce heavy inventories.

In addition to an increase in the buying of soft goods on time, sales finance companies report an increase of installment sales of motor boats, house trailers, swimming pools, travel tickets and college tuition payments.

The marked increase in personal savings noted a few months back doesn't dismay the finance companies. They hold that the consumer down payments and reserves. The growing reservoir of consumer savings is regarded as assurance of an upsurge of credit sales when the recession is reversed.

Latest Ohio Map Readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Highways today began distributing the official 1958-59 state highway map.

It shows all significant changes made to existing roads since the 1957 map was produced and indicates the routes of major new roads which are being built now or are scheduled to be started this year.

It took five months to prepare the new map, with much of the time being spent on hundreds of road changes.

The department ordered 500,000 maps printed and will get more if there is a demand for them. Within a week or two they will be available at all state highway garages and highway division offices. They now are available at the department's headquarters in Columbus.

The maps will be distributed at county and independent fairs and the Ohio State Fair.

Communities appear in yellow on the new map, making them easier to spot. The department says the new color scheme, with sections of surrounding states in blue, makes the maps easier to read.

Detailed insets of Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland are larger than for previous maps.

The map also contains a map of the eastern half of the United States, with all major routes indicated; an index of points of interest; an explanation of the new "yield right of way" signs and a diagram of the interstate freeway network being built in Ohio during the next 13 years or so.

Telephone numbers of Highway Patrol posts also are listed.

Liquor, Schools Cost State Most

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department, Liquor Department and school foundation program—all of which spent more than the year before—were the state's heaviest spenders during the last fiscal year, the state auditor says.

The Highway Department alone spent $317,608,704 of the 1.4 billion dollars which went for state operations in the year ended July 30, State Auditor James A. Rhodes said. That's $75,961,815 more than the department spent the year before.

The Liquor Department spent $220,100,515 (up $1,388,471) and the school foundation program $180,971,399 (up $9,565,705), Rhodes said.

Distribution to local governments of state-collected license fees and taxes made up much of the remaining expenditures. Included were 64 million dollars in motor vehicle licensing fees, 57 million in gasoline taxes, 33 million in poor relief and 24 million in sales taxes.

No Substitute for Strength

It was once the proud boast of great nations that they could and would protect their citizens anywhere in the world—and they did it, where necessary, by force of arms.

But the United States, despite its great power, finds itself in a state of peculiar frustration. Nearly 70 American citizens are, or have recently been, held captive in foreign lands. They are, or were, prisoners of Russia, East Germany (which is also Russia), Red China and the Cuban rebels.

Negotiation, humiliating as it was made by the reds, has won the release of most Americans held by the American eagle's tail feathers is getting to be common practice. East Germany (Russia) downed a plane and held its crew for the ransom of U. S. recognition of the red government. Of course Washington did not comply.

Then the Russians downed another U. S. military plane in Armenia. No definite ransom for the crew of nine is suggested, but the appearance of a weak America in the troubled Middle East—where face counts—is ransom enough.

Then the Cuban rebels started taking U. S. and Canadian subjects prisoner by the dozen. Included were many American servicemen.

What Uncle Sam can do has not yet been learned. But it is certain that this world trend toward seizing U. S. servicemen at every opportunity will have to be stopped. On this issue Washington will be forced to face squarely the proposition that there is no substitute for strength.

Seaway Opens New Horizons

A new 35-mile-long lake is forming along the Saint Lawrence Seaway. Just add a cipher to that mileage and you have the length of the seaway itself that, along with the mighty Saint Lawrence River and the Great Lakes, will permit all but very large ocean-going ships to reach Duluth, Minn.

The blasting of the last barrier was also the signal for new generation of power and a new companionship between the United States and Canada.

Thus an international dream of powerful appeal approaches realization in full a year from now. Some of the small vessels scheduled to use the new part of the waterway this month are not too deep-draft to have used the series of 14-foot canals built by Canada before 1903.

After the new lake rises to its high mark,

27 feet will be the controlling depth for the remaining work to attain. The cost, say, a 40-foot channel in the Saint Lawrence Seaway will keep anything like a big loaded tanker from "transiting" the waterway. But ships like ore carriers can be designed for great loads and not great draft. And there will be demand for the hydroelectric power in Ontario, New York and elsewhere.

Courtin' Main

Politics may make strange bed-fellows. But sooner or later they get used to the same bunk.

Mover over Dad, Mom's Tired

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That for 28 per cent of the country's estimated 39 million married couples, both husband and wife have jobs outside the home. The tired business woman may soon outnumber the tired business man.

That this is the century of the common dog as well as the common man. America's pooch population has leaped 44 per cent in the last decade.

That the Romans were the first people to use silver widely as money.

That music is really getting specialized. The owner of the Meramec Caverns at Stanton, Mo., has hired Dr. Sigmond Spaeth to make selections of "music to be listened to in a cave."

That a survey showed 15 million American women are overweight. The rest just think they are.

That no ship is launched on

That Dr. Carlton Fredericks, the nutritionist, says licorice is an excellent natural substitute for tranquilizer pills.

That a new fad has cropped up in the college set—eating lighted cigarettes. Well, anyway they're cheaper than goldfish.

That a recent study showed the average Harvard freshman is an inch taller than the average Yale freshman. But then Yale has never been the same since it lost Frank Merriwell.

That bandleader Sammy Kaye during his career has given away 250,000 souvenir batons. So-o-o-o, wouldn't you know, he is being honored by the National Lumber Manufacturers Assn.

That, according to the Fisherman's Magazine, a fish has such a poorly developed nervous system it feels no great pain when hooked.

That some 40 million American women today are said to make all or part of their clothing. If this is so, where are they hiding?

That Mamie Eisenhower, a good hand at canasta, now prefers a faster-playing version of the game called Bolivia.

That an elephant is happier when traveling by air if a hen is perched on its head. But the average man would rather have a chick on his arm.

That it was Ralph Waldo Emerson who observed: "That time, like all times, is a very good one—if we but knew what to do with it."

Difficulties in Small Business

By George Sokolsky

The investigation of Apalachin will undoubtedly produce a Roman holiday as obscure, robust, rotund, individuals, roughly referred to as hoodlums but often possessing bank accounts and credit lines which more honest men envy, march before the public. Most of them will have nothing to say under the Fifth or First or Sixth Amendments to the Constitution, the Communist lawyers having set the precedents.

A closer study of the Apalachin phenomenon needs to be made than a Congressional committee is willing to do. How does Apalachin fit into the private enterprise system? What is the relationship between Apalachin and the constant appeal of government officials for small business?

How can small business accumulate capital, under our tax systems, in competition with the life insurance companies, the mutuals, the pension funds of corporations and labor unions, and similar immense and concentrated reservoirs of capital? In some banks, it is said but cannot readily be established, that some officers run private factoring arrangements to get loans for some customers; this is an under-the-table transaction and is strictly crooked.

What Apalachin represents, in this system, is the legitimization of "hot" money by investment in normal industries. This involves old "bootleg" money which has to come out, dope and other illegal earnings, principally cash upon which no income taxes have been paid. Such money may be hidden here or abroad for years, but, to be profitable, it must come into the mainstream of business activity. Much of that money has been hidden in Canada, Switzerland, Panama, Venezuela and other sanctuaries. A distinct business activity, engaged in by lawyers, accountants and other specialists, has developed in the transportation and deposit of such money.

The men at Apalachin may therefore be defined as marginal businessmen who engage in marginal industries and services and who have to find means for investing funds in industries which usually do not attract big business and for which funds are unavailable in the great reservoirs of capital. This includes the immense garment industry, the transportation of clothing and food products to large cities, and certain phases of the leisure-time industry.

As some of the money these men use is illegitimate and needs to be covered up, because taxes were withheld or the money flowed in from abroad through unusual channels, these industries do their own policing, which occasionally involves murder. They are still wildly competitive in a semi-monopolistic era and employ such methods as were normal when John D. Rockefeller organized the Standard Oil Company.

The psychological response of all these men to the challenge of their lives and their activities is to develop legitimate businesses and for them to become respected citizens in their communities. They contribute freely to charity; they buy thousands of dollars of tickets for public affairs; they associate with politicians and celebrities, often picking up the tab as it is called. The great ambition of their lives is to be regarded as "somebody."

But it is very difficult to get out of the rut of former relationships. The man who has a "record" is always fearful that his record will come out, that some newspaperman will pick it up and write a story; the man who has no "record" knows that the police and others are fully cognizant of his origin. So those who do not pass from hood society to clean society live in a half-world of hoods, politicians, legitimate businessmen who are crooks, labor leaders with great public reputations who privately do as they can, smart girls on the make who prefer to be rich divorcees than poor but loving wives—it is a world of all of its own, with rigid rules as to loyalties, with competition for leadership and with men of business genius and competence of the highest order.

The center of this phase of private enterprise is in New York, which is the capital of the world of money. As the enterprises of these individuals grow, they can no longer depend on their own form of banking, which is to give a piece of the enterprise for a consideration; they require usual banking facilities and they get what they need because their legitimate operations have good standing.

It would be smart for Congressional committees to analyze the relationship of Apalachin to the difficulties of doing "small" business in the United States.

"And were you surprised, sir, when your wife was chosen the Best-Dressed Woman of the Year?"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN OLD Kentucky cunnel made his way with some difficulty to the breakfast table. As he lowered himself into his chair, his wife noticed that his hand was in a sling. "Just a matter of minor consequence at the club last night," he told her. "Couple of our younger members who have difficulty holding their liquor got a bit under the weather. One of them inadvertently stepped on my hand."

Jack Paar told a girl interviewer he was "different" from other TV M.C.s. "I'll prove it," offered Paar. "Many of the others can't sleep when they drink coffee; I can't drink coffee when I sleep."

Returned traveler from Havana reports the American-Spanish dictionaries in rooms of the new, ultra-swank, ultra-expensive international hotels conspicuously underline such phrases as "Is this deductible?" and "Is it OK to charge this to my expense account?"

Smokes, Drink, Cancer May Be a Tragic Trio

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.
You have read a lot, I know, about smoking and cancer. Now let's add another factor to this discussion—alcohol.

It has been shown that there is a high correlation between heavy consumption of alcohol, when combined with heavy smoking, and development of cancers of the oral cavity and larynx.

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder recently told a meeting of the American Cancer Society that for the heavy smoker who consistently drinks seven or more "shots" of hard liquor each day, the risk of developing these cancers is 10 times as great for the person who smokes the same amount but drinks only moderately or not at all.

Cancer of the oral cavity, incidentally, includes the tongue, gums, buccal mucosa, palate, tonsils and pharynx.

Dr. Wynder, of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York, says a positive association has been established thus far only for hard liquor, not for beer or wine.

It is difficult to determine alcohol's exact role in the picture. We can't say at this time whether alcohol alone can initiate these cancers since the researchers have been unable as yet to find a sufficient number of heavy drinkers who do not smoke.

Yet Dr. Wynder has some theories as to why excessive drinking of alcohol increases the risk of certain cancers.

It is often stated that alcohol acts directly upon the tissues, making them more permeable to tobacco. Or, perhaps it acts systemically or producing a nutritional deficiency which, in turn, induces tissue changes, making them more susceptible to cancer.

The study also found that a relatively high number of patients with cancer of the larynx suffered loss of teeth.

Recent studies seem to indicate that the risk of developing lung cancer may be associated with the number of cigarettes consumed.

Dr. Wynder's study, however, found that cigar and pipe smokers seem to run a greater risk of developing cancer of the larynx and oral cavity than do cigarette smokers.

Another interesting development of his research is that it apparently rules out hot food, voice strain, occupational exposure and dental irritations as possible causes of larynx and oral cavity cancer.

Heretofore, most doctors have believed that these may have been factors in cancer cases.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of our troubles is that we can't see through Premier Khrushchev's head. He extends a friendly hand one minute, a fist the next. But we don't know what he has up his sleeve.

A great many Americans have tried to analyze the meaning of the recent on-again-off-again Soviet tactics. But this writer hasn't seen or heard of one explanation yet that looks foolproof.

It's possible the Soviets' sudden reversals in recent months—from nice to nasty to nice—are the product of simple bumbling and stumbling in foreign policy or of internal Communist party conflicts hidden from sight.

It's also possible the Soviets don't care much what they do or say from month to month so long as they keep a couple of balls in the air, make propaganda, and keep stalling on disarmament or finding ways to prevent surprise attacks.

What Khrushchev has in mind for 3, or 5, or 10 years from now for the United States is something we can only guess at. And in this contest guessing carries a chilly feeling.

For, through all the shifting gears of the Kremlin one grue-some thought persists: Is Khrushchev stalling until he feels strong enough to wipe us out with a surprise attack? That's possible too.

It's almost certain neither side is going to talk seriously about disarmament, and for various reasons. One is enough: so long as both are heavily armed each has a measure of safety from attack by the other.

But how much safety from surprise attack each has is something only the top men on both sides know. It would seem to behoove this country to keep its defenses A-1 for years to come.

An individual in this country who tried to make perfect sense out of all the Soviet twists, following them down the dark alleys of the mind, could wind up in a loony bin. An example is given near the end of this story.

This year, after spending months building up propaganda for a summit meeting, or appearing to do so, Khrushchev all but knocked the idea of a summit conference out the window.

The same with the Geneva talks, where American and Communist scientists are now discussing ways to prevent cheating if there is agreement against further nuclear testing. At the last minute the Soviets seemed to be scuttling the meeting. Then they sent their scientists to Geneva.

And Khrushchev this past week, after practically torpedoing a summit conference, proposed to President Eisenhower technical talks on how to prevent surprise attacks. He failed to acknowledge that Eisenhower himself had proposed this last January.

Khrushchev knows what this country wants to prevent surprise attack: a good inspection system. But Sunday Pravda, right on the heels of Khrushchev's proposal, made a joke of any inspection system.

The Communist party newspaper suggested American inspection teams, in flying over the Soviet Union, might gather intelligence information for an American surprise attack.

If there's to be no inspection system, what's the solution? Just trust, Pravda said. That's some answer. Since there's no trust at all, both sides will remain heavily armed and capable of attack.

Which brings up a question: Why did Khrushchev mention it at all? Maybe just to keep talking.

Ohio Has 170 Cars Per Mile of Highway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For every mile of highway in the state system, there are about 170 passenger cars, the state registrar of motor vehicles says.

And, says Registrar George C. Braden, the average may be up to 190 cars by the end of the year. He said 3,050,825 passenger cars are among the 3,634,500 motor vehicle registrations in Ohio. He expects passenger car registrations to increase to 3,400,000 and the total to go up to 4,100,000 vehicles by year's end.

There are 18,294 miles of highway in the state system.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I notice you counsel childless couples occasionally; but it is my personal observation that, on the average, people with children don't appreciate any of the problems that we childless couples have.

My husband and I have been married several years and have no children. After extensive tests and costly treatment, we found out recently that we never can produce children of our own. Now we are on the waiting list of two adoption agencies, anxiously waiting the day when we will have a baby in our home.

Two of our most frequently encountered problems are (1) tactless people; and (2) unreasoning demands on our time.

We feel that our childless marriage is our private business, and we don't care to discuss the cause in public. But recently my hair dresser remarked (when I admitted having no children): "You don't like kids, eh?" As a matter of fact, we do; and would dearly love to have one, or several, of our own.

So many people seem to expect childless couples will have all the time in the world to work for church, civic causes and what-have-you. How frequently I hear: "Ann, since you don't have children, you'll have time to do this, won't you?"

I am the organist (gratis) at our church; I teach Sunday School, work in the nursery at night, visit for the church one morning a week, and hold office in a civic group. Until recently I worked with the Girl Scouts. I have responsibilities to my home and husband; we enjoy going together and play bridge two or three times a month. Also I have some domestic hobbies.

I realize that children ARE very time-consuming; and that I DO have more free time than women with children. Still there is a limit to the chores I can take on, outside the home, without doing my husband a disservice.

It would surely help if some people were a little more considerate, more aware that we don't feel "lucky" to be childless; and also that we aren't "free agents" to do all that needs to be done. May I have your comment?

P.N.

DEAR P.N.: Of recent years mine has been an adult household. Before that, my children spent seasons away at school. Thus off and on I've been "childless" too and always assumed that I was endlessly busy, even then.

However, as a contrast to the usual program, I underwent a fortnight's visit from my four grandchildren last month. They are ages four years, three years, two years and nine months, respectively. As hostess, I enlisted the help of two fulltime maids, the local Dydee Wash, and the expert support of the children's mother and their youthful auntie, to keep order. Still there was never an idle waking moment — although on her home ground, their mother handles the job unaided.

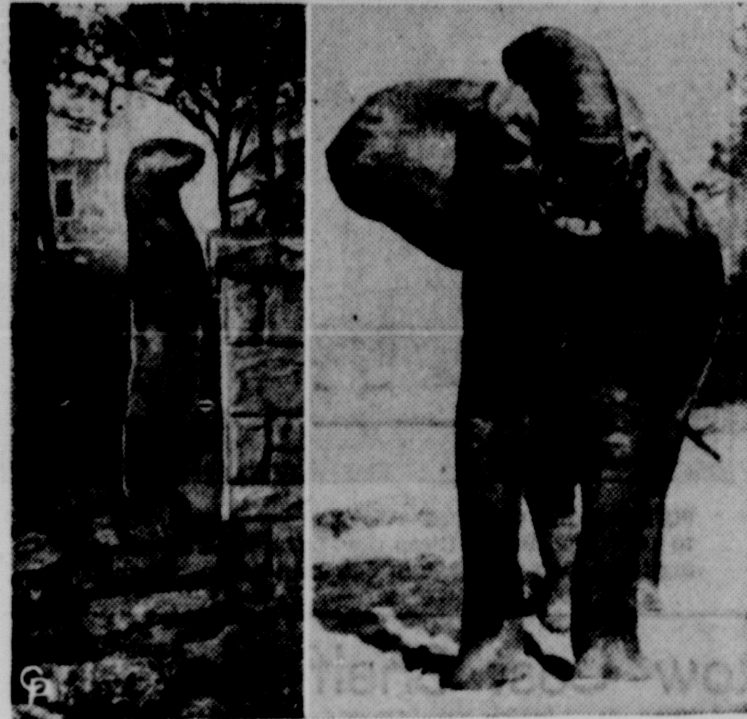

Drawing upon this refresher course in the requirements of child care, I make bold to testify that the childless matron — no matter how busy in the arena of good works — is a dilettante dabbling in an ocean of leisure, as compared to the average housewife with several young children.

Your problem isn't what you think. It isn't a case of tactless people making ill-considered remarks or demands. Rather it is a case of getting fouled-up by your own frustrations. Lacking children to absorb your love-feelings (as a sponge absorbs moisture), you've let these feelings recoil upon you, and become self-pity that festers resentfully.

You are sickly sensitive to any reminders of your childless status, and snatch at straws to be sore about. Figuratively, this is a psychological corn on your toe, and it is sure to get stepped on wherever you go. The only corrective and only protection is to develop sturdy health of mind, and stop formulating angry jealous comparisons between yourself and women with children.

Consider the women who'll never marry, for lack of opportunity. Their situation is far sadder than yours, on the score of diminished living. But when, if ever, have you heard a spinster labor the point?

FARMER INVENTS A MECHANICAL ROCK-PICKER—Do, right sick and tired of the tedious work of clearing rocks from North Dakota acreage to be brought under cultivation, farmer John Henne of near Alfred created an inexpensive, mechanical rock-picker. Henne's machine can clear 10 acres of rocks in an ordinary afternoon's work. The same acreage cleared by hired hands would require at least 10 days. The $500 rock-picker has tines, or teeth, which run along the surface of the ground, scooping up rocks and stones and tossing them into a wagon. (Central Press)

Low Cost Shelf Units For More Storage Space

Few women ever seem to have enough storage space, no matter how many closets the house boasts.

While it's nice to have extra closet space built in, an easier and less expensive way is to make a survey to see where inexpensive shelving units can be conveniently used.

There are wonderful door and wall shelf units in the stores that provide up to ten extra feet of space. The shelves are easily installed with the aid of a screw driver.

You may find enough space for a shelf inside kitchen cabinet doors or perhaps under the sink. The pantry door to wall might be the right place for a shelf to hold a spice rack, baby foods, canned goods, preserves and such. And how about the kitchen wall for pot tops, planters or dishes?

A shelf on the bathroom door or wall, or both, offers space for an extra medicine cabinet and is handy for storing cosmetics and bathroom supplies.

THE DOOR of the linen closet might be a good place for a shelf to hold insecticides, soap, rubber gloves, shoe shine equipment and many other items.

Door and shelf units are a boon for bedrooms as they can take care of so many different things, keep them within reach reach and remove some of the burden from bureau drawers and closet shelves. They are nice for closets, too, to keep personal belongings handy in order.

In the children's rooms, such shelf units really prove their worth. They are perfect for toys, books, games, records and those ever-increasing model collections.

Installing such units in the carport will make you wonder how you existed with all that clutter of tools, car waxes, paint, gardening equipment strewn on the floor. Now, every last packet of seed and plant food can be kept within easy reach, yet out of the way.

Each one of these new units has five shelves and guards to hold the items steady. They are adjustable in width and the shelves are adjustable up or down at one-inch intervals. This allows plenty of leeway for individual storage problems.

Giants Still Hound Braves By Heroics

Redlegs Exchange Wins with Phils; Tribe Nips A's

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Giants are still pulling off ninth inning heroics, one of the reasons San Francisco continues to hound Milwaukee, hanging on only one game behind the league leading Braves today.

For the third straight day, the Giants won a game in the ninth inning Sunday scoring the winning run in that frame. With the bases full, two out and the score tied in the last of the ninth, Cardinal relief pitcher Larry Jackson plunked Jimmy Davenport with a pitch, forcing over the winning run.

Philadelphia's Phillies extended their winning streak to seven by defeating Cincinnati 7-1, but the Redlegs won the second game of the doubleheader 11-4. The Braves broke their five-game losing streak as Joey Jay hurled a 2-0 shutout against Pittsburgh. Chicago's Cubs, behind the one-hit pitching of Dick Drott and Don Elston, defeated Los Angeles 6-2.

Jay, the Braves' 22-year-old bonus right-hander, throttled the Pirates with only four hits for his second victory in five decisions. Wes Covington batted in both Milwaukee runs with a single in the fifth and a home run in the seventh, both against Curt Raydon.

In the Cubs' second straight triumph at Los Angeles, Drott won his fourth in ten decisions. He had a no-hitter until Jim Gilliam got the lone Dodger hit, a single with one out in the seventh.

Drott, however, had to be replaced after he forced in a run in the seventh with his eighth pass.

GUS BELL rapped four hits and drove in four runs to pace Cincinnati's 15-hit attack in the second game victory after the Phillies had equalled National League's longest winning streak of the season in the opener. Rookie pitcher Ray Semproch limited the Redlegs to give hits for his 10th triumph as the Phils made it seven in a row in the first game.

Right-hander Ike Delock won his seventh game without defeat Sunday as the Red Sox defeated the New York Yankees 10-4. It was Boston's first victory over the American League leaders since April 16 and only the second in eight decisions this season.

The Yankees remained 11 games in front of Boston and Kansas City, tied for second. The A's were beaten by Cleveland 8-5. Detroit nipped Chicago 2-1 and Washington came from behind to shade Baltimore 4-3.

After limiting the Yankees to four hits through seven innings, Delock was clipped for three more hits in the eighth, including Mickey Mantle's 21st home run.

Ike received credit for snapping the Yankees' five-game winning streak, however, when Keli replaced him with two runners on base and one out and retired the next five batters.

Delock, counting his last four decisions in 1957, now owns a string of 10 successive victories.

Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen paced the Red Sox's 13-hit attack against loser Don Larsen and five relievers. Each collected three hits. Williams rapped his 14th home run to raise his league leading RBI total to 68. Jackie has hit safely in his last 15 games.

Jim Bunning racked up his fifth straight victory with a six-hit performance for the Tigers against the White Sox. The loser was Dick Donovan, his 10th in 13 decisions.

CLEVELAND rookie Gary Bell hurled a seven-hitter for his third victory in his first complete game in the majors. Ned Garver, who had beaten the Indians three times was the KC loser.

Relief pitcher Dick Hyde assured Washington of its first home victory against Baltimore since May 27, 1957, by retiring three straight Orioles in the ninth. Russ Kemmerer was the winner.

Top Hat Gains Double Win

The local Top Hat Softball team vaulted into first place in the Eastern Ohio Fastball League with a doubleheader win over Hupp Concrete of Zanesville Saturday night at Ted Lewis Park.

The Top Hatters coasted to a 13-1 decision in the first game, but had to bear down for a 3-1 win in the second match.

The locals now stand alone in first place in the EOFL, following a loss suffered by second place Newark Merchants Saturday night.

The two teams had been deadlocked for first.

Bill Cook and Kenny Reid collaborated for Top Hat's first win. Paul Neff went the distance in the second test.

COOK, hurling five frames, and Reid, working two, held the visitors to three hits. Neff allowed three hits.

In the first game Bob Glick rifled a triple and Carl Gulick had two doubles to lead Top Hat hitting. In the second contest, Don Neff and Bob Placier each poled a homerun. Placier also connected for a double and accounted for two runs.

The Top Hatters will meet some

Blaze Sweeps Randall Park

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fire swept a section of stables at nearby Randall Park race track early Sunday, destroying 12 horses and a pony.

Edwin C. Moon, track manager, estimated the loss, including the horses and 66 stalls, at $80,000. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Another horse, Pensive Song, led a stampede of 20 horses and broke its neck when it ran into a gate. It had to be destroyed. The impact opened the gate and the other horses ran onto Ohio 8, causing police to route traffic off the highway until the horses were rounded up.

Newman R. Low, a Lulig, Tex., breeder and trainer, was the heaviest loser. He said he lost eight horses and a pony valued at $30,000.

The horses were among 400 quartered at the Randall Park stables. Many are running in the current meet at Thistledown, which closes July 17. The Randall meet begins July 18.

All-Star Starters Rested; Turley, Friend on Deck

BULLETIN
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Bob Turley of the New York Yankees and Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves today were named starting pitchers for Tuesday's 25th All-Star baseball game.

The choice of Spahn was a surprise because the American League starting lineup contained only two left-handed batters.

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP)—For the first time in recent years, the managers of the All-Star baseball teams will have a stable of well-rested starting pitchers.

None of the 15 pitchers (eight in the National and seven in the American) slated for Tuesday's silver anniversary game started Sunday games. A few years back, it seemed everybody on the roster worked on the final day of regular play.

Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, perennial boss of the Americans, sounded off last year at St. Louis when he learned pitchers he wanted to use weren't available.

Old Case picked three men off his own Yankee staff this year. He was able to see to it that Bob Turley, top man in the majors with a 12-3 record, didn't pitch since beating Washington Friday with a three-hitter.

Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves, who heads the Nationals, also has been close mouthed about his pitching selections. However, he leaned toward Bob Friend of Pittsburgh. Friend beat Milwaukee Saturday for his 10th victory.

The preponderance of right-handed hitters in the starting lineups, selected by the players' votes, makes it desirable to start a right-handed pitcher on each side.

Stengel, whose Americans are favored 13-10, has Early Wynn of Chicago, Ray Narleski of Cleveland and his own relief man, Ryne Duren, as other right-handers. For left-handed hitters, he has southpaw Whitey Ford of the Yanks, Billy Pierce of Chicago and Billy O'Dell of Baltimore.

Haney has right-handers Bob Purkey of Cincinnati, who was used briefly in relief Sunday, Larry Jackson of St. Louis, Don McMahon of Milwaukee and Dick Farrell of Philadelphia, in addition to Friend.

Jackson started early in the year but has been used only on relief lately. MacMahon and Farrell are relief pitchers. His left-handers are his own Warren Spahn, Johnny Podres of Los Angeles and Johnny Antonelli of San Francisco.

Stan Musial of St. Louis, playing his 15th All-Star Game, and Bob Skinner of Pittsburgh are the only left-handed batters in the National's starting lineup. Nelson Fox of Chicago and switch-hitting Mickey Mantle of the Yanks are the American lefties against right-handers.

Katula District Golf Winner

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ted Katula has given fair warning that he's out to make the state amateur golf championship his own, starting Tuesday.

Katula returns to his hometown, Youngstown, and Tippecanoe Country Club there for the tourney after winning the Columbus district amateur title Sunday. He made a fine finish to close out the match on the 16th hole, defeating Dick Zimmerman of Columbus 3 and 2.

Katula overcame a three-hole deficit at the halfway mark to capture the 36-hole finale on Ohio State University's Scarlet course.

Jackie Eyes Ohio Amateur Golf Crown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Defending champion Robert Ross Jr. of Springfield and three former titlists are in the field of 184 seeking the Ohio amateur golf crown in the 52nd annual tournament starting at Tippecanoe Country Club here Tuesday.

Many contestants will test the 6,700-yard layout in a best ball event today.

There will be 18-hole qualifying rounds Tuesday and Wednesday, with the 63 qualifiers joining Ross in double 18-hole match play rounds Thursday and Friday. The semifinals Saturday and the final Sunday will be over the 36-hole route.

Ross is exempt from qualifying but will be bidding for medal honors Tuesday and Wednesday.

Former champions attempting to regain the title are Tom Jones Jr. of Youngstown, who beat Dick Evans for the title at the Tippecanoe course in 1951; veteran Ed Preisler of Cleveland, the 1946 winner, and Bob Rankin of Zanesville, who won the 1953 tournament.

One chief contender is Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, winner of the recent Trans-Mississippi tournament at Hutchinson, Kan. He was the leading amateur in the Rubber City Open tournament at Akron, which ended Sunday.

Bob Shave Jr. of Willoughby, who won the Cleveland district crown in a romp recently and runner-up the last two years in the state tourney, is another strong contender.

Nicklaus was ousted last year by Frank Gacke of Cleveland, who sank him with a barrage of nine birdies. Shave then beat Gacke. Youngstown's Bob McCall, who beat Shave for the title in 1956, now lives in Gary, Ind., and is ineligible for this year's tourney.

Fred (Rick) Jones of Youngstown, who won the national collegiate golf crown while at Ohio State University in 1956, will compete in the tourney while home on furlough from the Army.

IN POWDER PUFF DERBY—Mrs. Randa Sutherland, of Albuquerque, N. M., dusts off her small plane just before taking off from San Diego, Calif., in the Powder Puff Derby. Her craft was the first to take off. Mrs. Sutherland flew solo and hoped to be first when she reached Charleston, South Carolina.

Big Rafer May Pop-Eye The Russkys

PALMYRA, N.J. (AP) If all goes according to plan, there are going to be a lot of pop-eyed Russians when big Rafer Johnson finishes his decathlon performance in Moscow July 28.

"Rafer should break the world record and clobber that Russian," predicted Johnson's coach, Dick-ey Drake. "The Russian is good, and it ought to be interesting to watch the two of them but there will be no doubt as to the outcome. Rafer will win."

The Russian Drake referred to is Vasily Kuznetsov — big, talented and eager. Right now, he has all-time world record of 8,016 points pending. If Johnson betters it in Moscow, it will never get on the books.

Johnson, a quiet-spoken 200-pounder, who is president of UCLA's student body, holds the current listed world record of 7,985 points. If he beats Kuznetsov's standard in Moscow, he'll get a little additional balm because the Russians themselves will have to submit the record. The International Amateur Athletic Federation meets next month to consider record applications, so Johnson will have to go for broke in Moscow.

Johnson won the National AAU championship here Saturday with 7,754 points. Both he and his coach had hoped he'd break the record then.

"He had a couple of sub-par performances," said Drake.

Publinxers Open Fire for U.S. Crown

CHICAGO (AP) — Pay-as-you-play golfers from all walks of life — bartenders, steel workers, firemen and even a former big league outfielder — tee off today in the National Public Links Tournament.

The tournament is one for golfing's Joe Doaks, the guys who get up at daybreak and wait their turns at the municipal links — the guys who have to talk their bosses into giving them time off from work to play in the big meet.

The field of 150 will be shooting for 64 qualifying spots for championship match play the first two days. After the 36 hole trials, double rounds of man-to-man action will be Wednesday and Thursday, setting up the 36 hole semifinals Friday leading to the 36-hole windup Saturday.

Defending champion Don Essig III of Indianapolis, an LSU student, will try to become the first player since 1929 to win twice in a row.

The Silver Lake Golf Club in suburban Orland Park will provide a fine test. It stretches 6,896 yards over undulating meadowland with a par 38-35-73. It's tough enough to boast a course record of a respectable 69, set five years ago by Matt Carvey, now the club's pro.

Manbeavers Gets Radio Post Here

Eugene Manbeavers, 330 Lewis Road, has been selected to set up an organization of Circleville amateur radio operators prepared to furnish organized emergency communications in time of disaster. It was announced today by Communications Manager F. E. Handy of the American Radio Relay League, national association of radio amateurs.

Manbeavers' assignment, which carries the title of emergency coordinator, is to band together members of the amateur radio service in this community to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication by hams in the event of natural disasters or other emergencies. In addition to use of normal station equipment working from commercial power, amateur stations use self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment as needed.

Manbeavers, station K8ABI, as ARRL emergency coordinator will call local meetings of amateurs, establish common operating procedures, and arrange regular drill periods when the hams' personal stations may be mobilized under simulated emergency conditions.

His duties also include liaison planning with the local chapter of the American Red Cross and other relief agencies, as suggested in the working understanding of the ARRL Emergency Corps has with the national headquarters of the American Red Cross and other agencies. Liaison will be established also with local protective service, such as fire and police departments and civil defense communications will receive much attention.

IN announcing the appointment, Handy pointed out that radio amateurs have traditionally had the responsibility of being in constant readiness to offer assistance in time of need with ham-acquired skill, emergency-powered transmitters and a wealth of community spirit. "When sleet storms disrupt telephone and telegraph service, or floods isolate whole communities," the League's Communications Manager said, "it is amateur radio that comes to the rescue with operators and self-powered equipment, often as the sole agency able to transmit messages calling on the outside world for aid for the stricken community."

"To be prepared for this function requires not only a highly organized program of preparedness locally," Handy continued, "but hams outside the disaster area must be prepared to act as outlets and relay points for emergency traffic. Planning and organization are necessary in either eventuality and that is the job Manbeavers is doing for this area."

Solons Face Heavy Docket

Congress Fixes Aug. 9 Windup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shooting for early-August adjournment, congressional leaders mapped out a heavy work docket today as Congress returned from its last prolonged 1958 holiday.

Target date for adjournment is Aug. 9, and prospects are bright that it won't be missed far.

Senate leaders posted five bills for action this week. They deal with atomic energy construction, public works appropriations, housing, agriculture and minerals development.

The House faces an even more ambitious program, dealing with military construction, small business, marketing facilities, science scholarships, atomic energy construction, relief for depressed areas, construction of community facilities and small boat safety.

Chances are neither branch will clean up such a heavy program in one week.

There still are some controversial measures in the offing.

The Senate hasn't acted on House-passed bills to provide for reorganization of the Defense Department, extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, and miscellaneous appropriations including financing of the foreign aid program. All must be considered before adjournment.

The list of "must" House bills includes measures to boost Social Security benefits, to provide pensions for former presidents, to regulate union pension and welfare funds, and to authorize and finance a big military construction program.

A Senate-passed bill for general labor law revision currently is not on the program for House action but may be put there in the closing days of the session.

Americans for Democratic Action renewed its call for a tax cut of at least eight billion dollars a year, and for more spending programs to provide a boost for the economy. But there appeared little likelihood either would be voted.

The ADA, which describes itself as a nonpartisan organization, issued a statement signed by a group of economists, educators and labor leaders. Without further government efforts, it said, production levels of 1957 will not be equaled again before 1960. It added that a "long period of underemployment and underproduction . . . lies ahead."

Ditched Men Battle Sharks For Survival

HONOLULU (AP)—Three survivors of the C 124 Air Force transport plane which went down early Friday in mid-Pacific returned here Sunday night to tell of fighting off a school of sharks before they were rescued.

Nine were aboard the plane. One body was recovered and five others are missing and presumed drowned.

Returning here on the aircraft carrier Boxer, which picked up the three survivors 200 miles northeast of Johnston Island, Capt. Jonathan W. Brown, the plane's commander, told newsmen: "One of the sharks got a good hold on me and was shaking me."

"We were pounding the water and yelling and thrashing and kicking around. I was beating on the shark's head with my fist. He finally let go. There were several of them around and they swam away."

He said they apparently were put off somewhat by shark repellent from the men's lifejackets and by the noise.

Returning with Brown were T. Sgt. James M. Phillips, Vacaville, Calif., and S. Sgt. James P. Vanderee, San Rafael, Calif. Both were navigators on the big craft, which was on a flight from Travis Air Force Base in California to Tokyo with a crew of seven plus two military couriers picked up in Hawaii. Brown, who comes from Sioux City, Iowa, lives at Travis AFB, northeast of San Francisco.

Brown, Phillips and Vanderee all had minor cuts, gasoline burns and stains from shark repellent. Brown had a minor shark bite on his left shoulder.

They were taken to the Army's Tripler General Hospital for treatment.

Brown said the big Globemaster ditched 200 miles this side of Johnston Island after the No. 3 engine began backfiring and threw its propeller through the fuselage, cutting off all electric was a fraction of an inch above the floor line. He said he knelt down and saw a pair of shoes move. He called Brennan. Brennan said he saw a pair of hands and what appeared to be someone else peering back at him from the darkness on the other side of the crack under the door.

Next, Robb produced for newsmen a former Washington, D.C., policeman, Lloyd V. Furr, whom Robb hired a week ago to check on eavesdropping. Furr said an electrical detector confirmed there was a microphone next door.

Furr and Robb led the group over to the locked door.

Furr slid a wire coat hanger under the door, then pulled back in a swift motion.

Out came a small gray microphone the size of a tiny mouse, trailing behind it a tail of an electric cord several feet long.

There wasn't a sound from next door. Lotto pounded on the hallway door to Room 806. No response. He called for the manager and later for a policeman, who said no city law was violated in using the microphone.

Forty-five minutes elapsed before the silent, locked suite was opened to the newsmen and photographers.

The barrel-chested Shacklette did most of the talking while Anderson, whose by-line sometimes appears over the Pearson column, sat in an adjacent chair for the unscheduled news conference.

"We have information," Shacklette said in measured tones, "that committee members telephones were tapped. I was given the assignment of checking to see whether this was true."

"We had sufficient information," he went on, "to lead me to believe that there was an organized effort to dredge up everything possible on committee members. (Besides reports of wiretaps, Harris last week had said mysterious calls for information about him had also been made to his constituents.)"

"Mr. Anderson had some information which made it appear that we might find out who had paid for these private investigators. The trail led from the Statler Hotel (across the street from the Sheraton-Carlton) to this hotel. We were attempting to find out who in this hotel was responsible."

"Mr. Harris did not authorize any particular type of investigation. He did not authorize technical surveillance...."

"Mr. Anderson registered in this room and I took advantage of his hospitality."

Anderson said he too had reports of an undercover campaign against the subcommittee and was checking on them. He obtained the adjoining suite under the name of Brooks.

Lucky Number Earns $1000

Robert Wilkinson, 576 E. Main St., is right proud of the license number on his car.

Wilkinson should be, for his lucky tag number earned him $1,000 Saturday.

The handsome prize was earned through Standard Oil's license tag number contest, Saturday night Wilkinson's number was one of those winners posted for the week.

According to Wilkinson, he has been so busy the last few weeks that he didn't even know the contest was going on. The announcement came as a pleasant surprise.

Wilkinson, a veteran horse-shoe pitcher who believes in luck, recently won 10 silver dollars in the local "You Auto Buy Now" campaign.
